

Senate "Wets" Will Try To Kill "Dry" Part Of Food Bill

Many Administration Leaders Will Talk Against It And Chances For Killing Beer And Wine Are Slight

REVENUE FEATURE IS ARGUMENT AGAIN

By Robert J. Bender

Washington June 28.—The "Wets" in the Senate today decided to attempt a strike out of the entire prohibition amendment to the Food Control Bill.

The efforts will have the support of administration leaders who believe beer and wine are necessary for public equilibrium and purposes of revenue. It will be argued by administration leaders that the Gore amendment to the revenue bill now in the hands of the Finance committee provides for prohibition of distilled spirituous manufacture and an attempt will be made to let "war prohibition" be limited to that for the time being.

The Exemption Boards Have Been Organized

Serial Numbers For Cards And Order For Draft In A Few Days

The Local Exemption Boards for Clearfield county organized yesterday afternoon preparatory to taking up their work of completing the preparation for the selective draft of men for the United States army.

Clearfield county is composed of three districts, numbered consecutively. The board for District No. 1 is composed of Sheriff Ira C. McCloskey and Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, of Clearfield and Fred J. Dyer, of Curwensville. The committee met at the court house at 2 o'clock and after taking the required oath, organized by electing Sheriff McCloskey chairman and Mr. Dyer, secretary.

The boards for district No. 2 and 3 organized last evening. District No. 2 has County Commissioner Jesse E. Dale as chairman and B. B. McCright, secretary. District No. 3 is composed of James Minds of Ramey, President; Dr. R. A. Jackson and George Good secretary, of Osceola.

Following their organization each board telegraphed the facts to Governor Brumfugh and the official oaths were sent to Harrisburg by mail.

The first duty of these boards was then to take possession of all registration cards and make examination to determine whether they had all cards belonging to their districts. They are required to number every card within their district within three days. These numbers are styled serial numbers and before this numbering the cards shall not be arranged alphabetically but will be taken as they come. When the numbering has been completed a list of same shall be sent at once to the adjutant general at Harrisburg.

They are required to make four copies of the list of names registered, one of which the board retains for its use, another must be posted on the wall of their headquarters or meeting room and one given to the press with a request for its publication as a matter of public information, while the fourth list must be sent to the Provost Marshal at Washington, D. C.

The method, manner, time or times of place or places for draft will be described by the President by regulations hereafter issued. Directions each local board to determine the order in which the persons whose registration cards are within the jurisdiction of the respective local boards in accordance with the regulations prescribed, are liable to be called for military service by the respective boards to be physically examined, exempted, discharged or inducted into the service and the order to be furnished by the respective boards will also be determined. President in a later proclamation.

* Being a little "chesty" over the news facilities of The Progress, we desire to call the attention of our readers to the fact that The Progress was the only afternoon paper in or reaching Clearfield to announce the arrival of Pershing's troops in France yesterday.

* Neither the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or Altoona papers had this electrifying news statement. In this connection we just wish to remind you that The Progress gives you the world news "two hours before and three hours later" than any other evening newspaper reaching Clearfield, while if its local news—if it isn't in The Progress it didn't happen. That's all. Be wise and subscribe.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

River Line Passengers Reminded of Old Time "Mixed Trains"

Passengers on the River line yesterday were given a taste of what they can expect as a regular diet if the present plan to take the regular passenger train off and substitute a mixed train is allowed to stand by the autocrats who hand out train favors to New York Central patrons on this end of the Pennsylvania division. Tuesday night a dragging brake rod hit the cross bars of the switch at the entrance to the siding at Deer and bent them enough to open the points of the switch sufficient to cause a passing freight engine to open them on contact and the result was a disastrous wreck which blocked traffic until about 4 o'clock yesterday evening.

When the morning passenger train reached the spot the passengers were given all the accommodations of the coming "mixed train" when they were transferred around the wreck and loaded into a caboose to complete their journey.

One of the travelers said the experience recalled to him some of his oldtime experiences with the "mixed train" on the River Line when after suffering for several hours between Karthaus and Walton he used to get off the train there and going up to Leconte's mills would hire a horse and buggy and beat the train the intervening 12 miles into Clearfield. He said of course he never did that except when in a hurry to get to town on business.

(By United Press)
Washington, June 27.—Secretary of War Baker today ditched the committee on public information—otherwise the official censor—insofar as handling the military news is concerned. This action followed the confusion yesterday in making public the arrival of the Pershing men in France. The war department had not sanctioned the release. The war department had opposed the publication while the committee authorized it.

The groom came here four years ago from Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and has been a student of Lennox college. He went last week to Des Moines and enlisted in the navy and expects to be called for service at any time. Their many friends extend to them their best wishes.—Hopkinton. (Iowa) News

ODD SPECTACLE WAS SEEN ON RIVER LINE

Many Misunderstandings Old Incidents Enter Into Moral Of Karthaus Wreck

WRECK COMPLICATES AFFAIR

Man's troubles in this world of sin and tribulation are supposed to end here when the final summons comes and the mortal coils are doffed, such it appears is not always the case. At least it operated contrarily in the case of Henry Conway, a former resident of Karthaus township, who died in a West Virginia hospital some two weeks ago.

Following the man's death his remains were prepared for burial, by Clearfield county relatives notified and the corpse shipped by express to Karthaus.

When the body arrived at its destination there were charges piled up totaling nearly $150 and the man's relatives refused to pay the bill and receive the remains. There was nothing to do under express regulations but return the corpse to the place of shipment, which was done.

Explanations were made the charges arranged for and the remains were reshipped once more for Karthaus. The body arrived in Clearfield on the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday morning and was transferred to the New York Central River Line for the final lap of the long twice-taken journey.

The troubles were not at an end yet, however. About 11 o'clock Tuesday night a bad wreck occurred on the River Line at Deer and when the morning passenger train arrived at the scene of the wreck it was found necessary to transfer the passengers around the wreck to a waiting engine and caboose in order to get them thru to Karthaus and Keating.

When the transfer of the corpse was attempted the trainmen found it impossible to get the casket into the caboose and after considerable effort the remains were secured on the front of the engine and in this manner the inconspicuous funeral procession was continued into Karthaus, and from thence on down to Cataraugus where two brothers of the deceased took charge of the remains and had them decently and properly interred in the cemetery near Cataraugus.

The unusual spectacle of a corpse strapped to the front of a fast-running freight engine attracted a great deal of attention along the line of the railroad.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATION A SUCCESS

Waterville, Me., June 28.—Co-operation in buying, selling and production has proved a big boon to the farmers of Maine, according to reports to be presented to the annual meeting of the Maine Farmers' Union Grain and Supply Company, which met in this city today for a two-day session. The system has already reduced the cost of sugar 50 cents a hundred pounds, gross cost 60 cents a bushel, paria gross 50 cents a pound, copper sulphate 50 cents a pound and paint 40 to 50 cents a gallon.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1917

The Clearfield County Public Safety Committee is in for a searching in a letter to the editor which is published in these columns. The Public Safety Committee has not found much to do and it appears that they are hunting for work. We hope their work in the future will prove that it is not a "paper committee" but a working unit in the great national war machine.

The national body of lawmakers have "passed the buck" to President Wilson in the matter of prohibition in such a way that from now on he must bear the brunt of attacks from the temperance folk of the entire nation. It seems ridiculous that the lawmakers do not have backbone enough to pass upon the issue without foisting it upon the one whose burdens are already heavy with the cares of statesmanship and war problems. President Wilson may, in good time, see fit to order national prohibition but it is more likely that he will, in some manner, let Congress know that they have shirked their duty and call upon them to share their share of the responsibilities of the times.

Every community has its quota of trouble hunters; people who cannot forget the past and seek to pick the old sores of a lifetime. Some in this category are at present sharpening their tongue on England. The United States has no quarrel with England at this time. We have had quarrels in the past, plenty of them, and we always emerged the victor. We can take care of our interests. Nations today may and must be judged by their present acts and not by the past. He who seeks to open up these old accounts is simply pouring oil on the fire and lacks the first semblance of patriotism. Lloyd George was an obscure Welsh lawyer who on account of his opposition to the South African War only a few years ago was forced to disguise himself as a policeman to fly from Birmingham from the crowd that wanted to lynch him. England and Lloyd George have both forgotten the incident, and very properly at that. We in the United States must forgive and forget.

Lawyer Says Some Ven Think That Proposals Can Be Easily Broken

New York, June 28.—"Some men seem to think," said a prominent lawyer, who has figured as counsel in many breach of promise actions, "that proposals, like pie-crusts, are only made to be broken, and they are quite pained to find that the breaking is, at times, a costly process."

He was not alluding to the recent sensational case in this city in which Miss Honora May O'Brien, 28 years old, was awarded a verdict of $250,000 in the action which she brought against the octogenarian banker, John B. Manning, for breach of promise of marriage, but to the hundreds of cases which are tried every year in American courts, in which damages ranging from a few hundred to several thousand dollars are awarded; and he ventured the opinion that in the course of twelve months defendants in breach of promise cases in this country have to pay as compensation for breaking women's hearts an aggregate amount in excess of $500,000. For it must be remembered that many cases involving well known people are settled out of court and on terms not revealed, but presumably very substantial.

The verdict awarded Miss O'Brien establishes a new high record for this country. Hitherto the record in American courts for breach of promise damages is that established by Miss Clara Campbell, daughter of a prominent Western forge-master, who some years ago brought an action for breach of promise against the senior member of a firm of coffee merchants, and was awarded $45,000 damages. Substantial awards in breach of promise actions have been much more frequent in the English courts than in the courts in this country. Several years ago, following a sensational trial in London, Miss Daisy Markham was awarded $250,000 in an action which she brought against the Marquis of Northampton for breach of promise.

The $250,000 given Miss Markham as a settlement for the breach represented the largest sum ever awarded in the English courts in such an action. In two previous breach of promise cases, however, $50,000 damages were awarded. The first was in 1884, when Miss Portesque, a Savoy actress, brought an action against Viscount Garmoyne, son and heir of the great Lord Chancellor Cairns for breach of promise. Miss Portesque was then 25 years of age, and the sum of $50,000 was agreed upon between the parties when the case came to trial.

Six years later there was tried in London an action for breach of promise brought by Miss Theresa Gladys Knowles, a young lady of 21, niece of Admiral Knowles, who sued Leslie Duncan, a publisher, who was 64 years of age at the time. In the end the jury ordered him to pay $50,000 to the lady, who had claimed $125,000. Members of the peerage have figured in numerous notable breach of promise actions. Viscount Dangan (afterwards Earl Cowley) had to pay $12,500 in 1889 to Miss Phyllis Broughton, while Miss Birdie Sutherland's action against the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks (afterwards Lord Tweedmouth) was settled in 1895 for $25,000.

Mention might also be made of the $10,000 awarded against the Duke of Manchester in an action brought by Miss Fortin Knight. His Grace was sued after his marriage in 1900 to Miss Helene Zimmerman of Cincinnati. The public were looking forward to a sensational trial when the action was suddenly withdrawn from the lists, a private arrangement having been effected which prevented the case from coming into the courts.

One of the most sensational breach of promise cases on record was that in which the ruler of a kingdom was sued for heart balm. This occurred in 1893, when an action was brought against the Sultan of Johore by Miss Jannie Mighell. That an English girl should bring such an action against an Eastern Prince seemed almost incredible, but she persevered with it so courageously that the alarmed potentate declined to order a defence beyond a declaration that as a sovereign he could not be sued by a subject, and accordingly the lady's action must fail because he was not amenable to the laws of England.

Counsel on both sides fought out the question with the greatest zeal, but in the end the judge upheld the Sultan's defense, and consequently the original case never came into the courts.

J. Mitchell Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chase, who is attending the officers' training camp at Madison Barracks, Watertown, New York, will attempt to land a commission in the field artillery, being afraid to tackle the infantry on account of lack of weight. In a letter to his home folks he says he is getting along fine and greatly enjoying his strenuous experience.

John Flegal, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Flegal, a recruit in Uncle Sam's army and located at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, hurt his shoulder during gun practice some two or three weeks ago, and as the injury was not responding properly to medical treatment an X-ray picture was taken of the injured member when it was discovered that the shoulder had been broken and as it had not knitted properly the doctor in attendance found it necessary to break the bone over and re-set it. This was done yesterday, Mr. Flegal received a telegram yesterday morning appraising him of the operation without disclosing the nature of it. The home folks were considerably alarmed and telegraphed Malcolm Cox, a member of John's company for information; but were greatly relieved when his reply, received at 3:30 last evening, explained the circumstances.

MORE MIDDLES GRADUATE AHEAD OF TIME

Annapolis, Md., June 28.—Approximately 200 new officers are added to the navy by the graduation of the first class at the United States Naval Academy today. This is the second class to receive diplomas at the academy within three months. The class which ordinarily would have finished this month was graduated last March. It was originally planned to graduate the second class next September, but the need of additional officers for the mosquito fleet led to a decision by the Navy Department to advance the date still further.

Goldine was recommended to me by a friend and I read of it in the papers, of people who lived in Clearfield who received help from Goldine, and I decided to try it. I am glad I decided to try Goldine for I soon found my appetite was beginning to improve, could sleep better, nervousness left me and don't worry about things now. Also my strength is coming back. I advise anyone suffering as I did to try Goldine. The first bottle will demonstrate the merit of the new tonic.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

This schedule of payments does not apply, of course, to those persons who have purchased their bonds on the weekly or monthly installment plan through their employers, or through banks, stores and other agencies who made the purchases direct from the Government.

Clearfield, Pa., June 27, 1917
Editor of Progress.

I understand that on Tuesday May 22, 1917, there was organized in the Court House of Clearfield County a body of men calling themselves the Clearfield County Safety committee, authorized by Governor Brumbaugh, and to cooperate with the State Safety committee, in matters pertaining to the welfare of the whole commonwealth, as long as the war lasted.

Now what I think a shame and disgrace on our county is that yesterday was our regular meeting day, unless otherwise called by the chairman. There was one member of that Committee there at the court house yesterday and that was all I saw or knew of, it may be that the other members thought they could not spare the time it would take, but the way I look at this war is if we do not try and give some of our valuable time to help support our army in the field we cannot have any share in the victory. If such it be, but I do know we will all share alike if Liberty is lost, we are all supposed to do our part, he is now so small to help our country. For this is why the governor appointed an on such a committee to assist him in time of need. Now is the time. The people who think this war is a joke had better waken up and rub their eyes.

Respectfully yours,

J. A. BRETH,

Member of the above committee

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Wayne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson, of Locust street, and one of Clearfield's youngest army recruits, has been selected by his Troop Commander at Mercedes, Texas, as one of four boys of the troop to take the examination for admission to West Point. His parents were apprised of his good fortune in the following letter:

Mercedes, Texas,
June 24, 1917

Dear Father, Mother and Huddy:

Today I celebrate the end of my second month in Uncle Sam's army, and everything seemed to come my way with a rush. I succeeded in qualifying as "marksman" on the rifle range, which means two extra "bones" per month. I made up my mind before going to the range that if I should succeed in this that I would leave the ranks of the laundrymen and send my washing out, so out she goes. Don't you think this a good way to spend that extra two.

Well, Mother, that "marksman" is nothing to what my other piece of good luck was. The troop commander sent for me at 9:30 this morning and got me into the orderly room with three other fellows. The commander is a stern man and we were wondering what in the world he wanted. Finally he said: "Well, are you four men willing to go to school?" I thought he meant some school about barbering; how to handle a rifle or something like that, but when the other fellows said they were willing I said I was too, and then he said "Well, each troop sends four men a year to West Point and I am going to give you boys a chance to qualify; now get busy."

He asked for recommendations from home and I have written to Postmaster Barclay for mine. So please send my geometry and algebra as I have but about a month to prepare for the exam, and will have to hustle. I know I have a lot to study but I am going to try hard to land this. Also send me "The Breeze."

I have directed that $20 be sent you each month, that will leave me $10 after my washing is paid for and that is enough here. I sure do like the army and have one of the nicest horses in the troop. So far everything seems to go just as I wish it. We have received our khaki uniforms and now look like real soldiers.

Lovingly,
WAYNE

ON THE SCREEN

GIRL OF BRAINS IS DOROTHY DALTON

Dorothy Dalton is staged in the Triangle-Ince-Kay Bee drama to be starred at the Tent theatre Friday. This is a tense story of big business. Having been assisted to a big position through the unswerving loyalty of Ellen Holton, a quiet but unusually efficient stenographer, Larry Thomas, an ambitious country youth, decides to throw Ellen over and marry the daughter of the president of the company, despite the fact that he knows Muriel Brooks to be a reckless, pleasure loving parasite. In company with one of her unscrupulous companions Muriel gets into her father's office at night to rob the vault. A quarrel develops between the girl and her accomplice, and during the ensuing struggle Muriel is shot and killed. Larry Thomas, who has been working late rushes in. But the real murderer has escaped, and when the police arrive they find Larry bending over Muriel's body. Ellen Holton is the only other person in the office. Larry is held for the crime, and Ellen is to be the chief witness against him. Just before the trial Ellen persuades Larry to agree to their marriage in jail. Then the case is dropped, because a wife cannot be forced to testify against her husband. In the end Larry tracks down the real culprit and makes amends to the brave girl who was willing to sacrifice everything for him.

Marguerite Clark, the fascinating little star of the Famous Players film company, who since her desertion of the stage has endowed the screen with a number of inimitable characterizations, most notable of which are her successful appearance in "Still Waters" and in the dual title roles of "The Prince and the Pauper," adds another screen achievement that surpasses all her previous triumphs in the role of Peggy, in the photo-production of the famous romantic comedy, "Mice and Men." This role, in which such popular actresses as Annie Russell and Lady Gertrude Forbes-Robertson distinguished themselves in New York and London respectively, develops the impulses, whimsicalities and ideals of romantic youth and it may therefore be readily seen that Miss Clark is eminently suited to this captivating impersonation.

Senate "Wets" Will Try To Kill "Dry" Part Of Food Bill

Many Administration Leaders Will Talk Against It And Chances For Killing Beer And Wine Are Slight

REVENUE FEATURE IS ARGUMENT AGAIN

By Robert J. Bender

Washington June 28.—The "Wets" in the Senate today decided to attempt a strike out of the entire prohibition amendment to the Food Control Bill.

The efforts will have the support of administration leaders who believe beer and wine are necessary for public equilibrium and purposes of revenue. It will be argued by administration leaders that the Gore amendment to the revenue bill now in the hands of the Finance committee provides for prohibition of distilled spirituous manufacture and an attempt will be made to let "war prohibition" be limited to that for the time being.

The Exemption Boards Have Been Organized

Serial Numbers For Cards And Order For Draft In A Few Days

The Local Exemption Boards for Clearfield county organized yesterday afternoon preparatory to taking up their work of completing the preparation for the selective draft of men for the United States army.

Clearfield county is composed of three districts, numbered consecutively. The board for District No. 1 is composed of Sheriff Ira C. McCloskey and Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, of Clearfield and Fred J. Dyer, of Curwensville. The committee met at the court house at 2 o'clock and after taking the required oath, organized by electing Sheriff McCloskey chairman and Mr. Dyer, secretary.

The boards for district No. 2 and 3 organized last evening. District No. 2 has County Commissioner Jesse E. Dale as chairman and B. B. McCright, secretary. District No. 3 is composed of James Minds of Ramey, President; Dr. R. A. Jackson and George Good secretary, of Osceola.

Following their organization each board telegraphed the facts to Governor Brumfugh and the official oaths were sent to Harrisburg by mail.

The first duty of these boards was then to take possession of all registration cards and make examination to determine whether they had all cards belonging to their districts. They are required to number every card within their district within three days. These numbers are styled serial numbers and before this numbering the cards shall not be arranged alphabetically but will be taken as they come. When the numbering has been completed a list of same shall be sent at once to the adjutant general at Harrisburg.

They are required to make four copies of the list of names registered, one of which the board retains for its use, another must be posted on the wall of their headquarters or meeting room and one given to the press with a request for its publication as a matter of public information, while the fourth list must be sent to the Provost Marshal at Washington, D. C.

The method, manner, time or times of place or places for draft will be described by the President by regulations hereafter issued. Directions each local board to determine the order in which the persons whose registration cards are within the jurisdiction of the respective local boards in accordance with the regulations prescribed, are liable to be called for military service by the respective boards to be physically examined, exempted, discharged or inducted into the service and the order to be furnished by the different boards will also be determined. President in a later proclamation.

Paris, June 27.—According to a report received from the front today James Hall of Boston, an American aviator in the Lafayette Squadron has been killed in an air fight with seven German adversaries. Hall had made his first flight on Sunday. On that day he courageously attacked the enemy planes point blank at twenty yards. The Boche struck back and Hall fell one thousand feet but he recovered his machine and landed safely. The details of the enemy engagement in which Hall lost his life are lacking.

* Being a little "chesty" over the news facilities of The Progress, we desire to call the attention of our readers to the fact that The Progress was the only afternoon paper in or reaching Clearfield to announce the arrival of Pershing's troops in France yesterday.

* Neither the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or Altoona papers had this electrifying news statement. In this connection we just wish to remind you that The Progress gives you the world news "two hours before and three hours later" than any other evening newspaper reaching Clearfield, while if its local news—if it isn't in The Progress it didn't happen. That's all. Be wise and subscribe.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

River Line Passengers Reminded of Old Time "Mixed Trains"

Passengers on the River line yesterday were given a taste of what they can expect as a regular diet if the present plan to take the regular passenger train off and substitute a mixed train is allowed to stand by the autocrats who hand out train favors to New York Central patrons on this end of the Pennsylvania division. Tuesday night a dragging brake rod hit the cross bars of the switch at the entrance to the siding at Deer and bent them enough to open the points of the switch sufficient to cause a passing freight engine to open them on contact and the result was a disastrous wreck which blocked traffic until about 4 o'clock yesterday evening.

When the morning passenger train reached the spot the passengers were given all the accommodations of the coming "mixed train" when they were transferred around the wreck and loaded into a caboose to complete their journey.

One of the travelers said the experience recalled to him some of his oldtime experiences with the "mixed train" on the River Line when after suffering for several hours between Karthaus and Walton he used to get off the train there and going up to Leconte's mills would hire a horse and buggy and beat the train the intervening 12 miles into Clearfield. He said of course he never did that except when in a hurry to get to town on business.

Offended War Department At Making Public Landing of Pershing's Men

(By United Press)
Washington, June 27.—Secretary of War Baker today ditched the committee on public information—otherwise the official censor—insofar as handling the military news is concerned. This action followed the confusion yesterday in making public the arrival of the Pershing men in France. The war department had not sanctioned the release. The war department had opposed the publication while the committee authorized it.

FORMER CLEARFIELD BOY WEDS

On Saturday evening, June 16, at 8 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. M. J. Bollman, the bride's mother, occurred the wedding of Miss Marion Bollman and Andrew B. Spence. During the playing of the wedding march by Miss Nellie Campbell the couple took their places under the draped flag of the United States, to which the groom just recently pledged allegiance. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. H. Ensign, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The ring was carried in a basket of daisies by little Miss Mary Eleanor Baldwin, a niece of the bride. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. M. J. Bollman and has resided most of her life in Hopkinton. She is a graduate of Lennox college and for several years has been secretary of that institution. Her father Dr. W. J. Bollman, who many remember, was a highly honored teacher in the college and a soldier in the Civil war. The groom came here four years ago from Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and has been a student of Lennox college. He went last week to Des Moines and enlisted in the navy and expects to be called for service at any time. Their many friends extend to them their best wishes.—Hopkinton. (Iowa) News

The aforementioned groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Spence of Linden street, and a fine young man. The Progress joins his host of local friends in extending heartiest congratulations.

ODD SPECTACLE WAS SEEN ON RIVER LINE

WRECK COMPLICATES AFFAIR

Man's troubles in this world of sin and tribulation are supposed to end here when the final summons comes and the mortal coils are doffed, such it appears is not always the case. At least it operated contrarily in the case of Henry Conway, a former resident of Karthaus township, who died in a West Virginia hospital some two weeks ago.

Following the man's death his remains were prepared for burial, his Clearfield county relatives notified and the corpse shipped by express to Karthaus.

When the body arrived at its destination there were charges piled up totaling nearly $150 and the man's relatives refused to pay the bill and receive the remains. There was nothing to do under express regulations but return the corpse to the place of shipment, which was done.

Explanations were made the charges arranged for and the remains were reshipped once more for Karthaus. The body arrived in Clearfield on the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday morning and was transferred to the New York Central River Line for the final lap of the long twice-taken journey.

The troubles were not at an end yet, however. About 11 o'clock Tuesday night a bad wreck occurred on the River Line at Deer and when the morning passenger train arrived at the scene of the wreck it was found necessary to transfer the passengers around the wreck to a waiting engine and caboose in order to get them thru to Karthaus and Keating.

When the transfer of the corpse was attempted the trainmen found it impossible to get the casket into the caboose and after considerable effort the remains were secured on the front of the engine and in this manner the inconspicuous funeral procession was continued into Karthaus, and from thence on down to Catawba where two brothers of the deceased took charge of the remains and had them decently and properly interred in the cemetery near Catawba.

The unusual spectacle of a corpse strapped to the front of a fast-running freight engine attracted a great deal of attention along the line of the railroad.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATION A SUCCESS

Waterville, Me., June 28.—Co-operation in buying, selling and production has proved a big boon to the farmers of Maine, according to reports to be presented to the annual meeting of the Maine Farmers' Union Grain and Supply Company, which met in this city today for a two-day session. The co-operation system, first launched in this state four years ago, has spread until now it embraces nearly 100 local farmers' unions representing as many towns and localities, each with a capital of $10,000, and with a general state union fund which extensive co-operative buying is carried on. The system has already reduced the cost of sugar 30 cents a hundred pounds, gross cost 60 cents a bushel, paria gross 30 cents a pound, copper sulphate 6 cents a pound and paint 40 to 50 cents a gallon.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1917

The Clearfield County Public Safety Committee is in for a searching in a letter to the editor which is published in these columns. The Public Safety Committee has not found much to do and it appears that they are hunting for work. We hope their work in the future will prove that it is not a "paper committee" but a working unit in the great national war machine.

The national body of lawmakers have "passed the buck" to President Wilson in the matter of prohibition in such a way that from now on he must bear the brunt of attacks from the temperance folk of the entire nation. It seems ridiculous that the lawmakers do not have backbone enough to pass upon the issue without foisting it upon the one whose burdens are already heavy with the cares of statesmanship and war problems. President Wilson may, in good time, see fit to order national prohibition but it is more likely that he will, in some manner, let Congress know that they have shirked their duty and call upon them to share their share of the responsibilities of the times.

Every community has its quota of trouble hunters; people who cannot forget the past and seek to pick the old sores of a lifetime. Some in this category are at present sharpening their tongue on England. The United States has no quarrel with England at this time. We have had quarrels in the past, plenty of them, and we always emerged the victor. We can take care of our interests. Nations today may and must be judged by their present acts and not by the past. He who seeks to open up these old accounts is simply pouring oil on the fire and lacks the first semblance of patriotism. Lloyd George was an obscure Welsh lawyer who on account of his opposition to the South African War only a few years ago was forced to disguise himself as a policeman to fly from Birmingham from the crowd that wanted to lynch him. England and Lloyd George have both forgotten the incident, and very properly at that. We in the United States must forgive and forget.

Lawyer Says Some Ven Think That Proposals Can Be Easily Broken

New York, June 28.—"Some men seem to think," said a prominent lawyer, who has figured as counsel in many breach of promise actions, "that proposals, like pie-crusts, are only made to be broken, and they are quite pained to find that the breaking is, at times, a costly process."

He was not alluding to the recent sensational case in this city in which Miss Honora May O'Brien, 28 years old, was awarded a verdict of $250,000 in the action which she brought against the octogenarian banker, John B. Manning, for breach of promise of marriage, but to the hundreds of cases which are tried every year in American courts, in which damages ranging from a few hundred to several thousand dollars are awarded; and he ventured the opinion that in the course of twelve months defendants in breach of promise cases in this country have to pay as compensation for breaking women's hearts an aggregate amount in excess of $500,000. For it must be remembered that many cases involving well known people are settled out of court and on terms not revealed, but presumably very substantial.

The verdict awarded Miss O'Brien establishes a new high record for this country. Hitherto the record in American courts for breach of promise damages is that established by Miss Clara Campbell, daughter of a prominent Western forge-master, who some years ago brought an action for breach of promise against the senior member of a firm of coffee merchants, and was awarded $45,000 damages. Substantial awards in breach of promise actions have been much more frequent in the English courts than in the courts in this country. Several years ago, following a sensational trial in London, Miss Daisy Markham was awarded $250,000 in an action which she brought against the Marquis of Northampton for breach of promise.

The $250,000 given Miss Markham as a settlement for the breach represented the largest sum ever awarded in the English courts in such an action. In two previous breach of promise cases, however, $50,000 damages were awarded. The first was in 1884, when Miss Portesque, a Savoy actress, brought an action against Viscount Garmoyne, son and heir of the great Lord Chancellor Cairns for breach of promise. Miss Portesque was then 25 years of age, and the sum of $50,000 was agreed upon between the parties when the case came to trial.

Six years later there was tried in London an action for breach of promise brought by Miss Theresa Gladys Knowles, a young lady of 21, niece of Admiral Knowles, who sued Leslie Duncan, a publisher, who was 64 years of age at the time. In the end the jury ordered him to pay $50,000 to the lady, who had claimed $125,000. Members of the peerage have figured in numerous notable breach of promise actions. Viscount Dangan (afterwards Earl Cowley) had to pay $12,500 in 1889 to Miss Phyllis Broughton, while Miss Birdie Sutherland's action against the Hon. Dudley Marjoribanks (afterwards Lord Tweedmouth) was settled in 1895 for $25,000.

Mention might also be made of the $10,000 awarded against the Duke of Manchester in an action brought by Miss Fortin Knight. His Grace was sued after his marriage in 1900 to Miss Helene Zimmerman of Cincinnati. The public were looking forward to a sensational trial when the action was suddenly withdrawn from the lists, a private arrangement having been effected which prevented the case from coming into the courts.

One of the most sensational breach of promise cases on record was that in which the ruler of a kingdom was sued for heart balm. This occurred in 1893, when an action was brought against the Sultan of Johore by Miss Jannie Mighell. That an English girl should bring such an action against an Eastern Prince seemed almost incredible, but she persevered with it so courageously that the alarmed potentate declined to order a defence beyond a declaration that as a sovereign he could not be sued by a subject, and accordingly the lady's action must fail because he was not amenable to the laws of England.

Counsel on both sides fought out the question with the greatest zeal, but in the end the judge upheld the Sultan's defense, and consequently the original case never came into the courts.

Enlistment Notes

Oscar W. Gearhart has received a final call from the government to report in person at the DuBois recruiting office within 15 days to be sent away for final examination for enlistment in the hospital corps of the U. S. army. Mr. Gearhart will leave Clearfield on Monday July 9th.

J. Mitchell Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chase, who is attending the officers' training camp at Madison Barracks, Watertown, New York, will attempt to land a commission in the field artillery, being afraid to tackle the infantry on account of lack of weight. In a letter to his home folks he says he is getting along fine and greatly enjoying his strenuous experience.

John Flegal, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Flegal, a recruit in Uncle Sam's army and located at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, hurt his shoulder during gun practice some two or three weeks ago, and as the injury was not responding properly to medical treatment an X-ray picture was taken of the injured member when it was discovered that the shoulder had been broken and as it had not knitted properly the doctor in attendance found it necessary to break the bone over and re-set it. This was done yesterday, Mr. Flegal received a telegram yesterday morning appraising him of the operation without disclosing the nature of it. The home folks were considerably alarmed and telegraphed Malcolm Cox, a member of John's company for information; but were greatly relieved when his reply, received at 3:30 last evening, explained the circumstances.

MORE MIDDLES GRADUATE AHEAD OF TIME

Annapolis, Md., June 28.—Approximately 200 new officers are added to the navy by the graduation of the first class at the United States Naval Academy today. This is the second class to receive diplomas at the academy within three months. The class which ordinarily would have finished this month was graduated last March. It was originally planned to graduate the second class next September, but the need of additional officers for the mosquito fleet led to a decision by the Navy Department to advance the date still further.

WHAT'S SHE USE

IN SUFFERING WHEN YOU CAN GET GOLDINE?

If you suffer with a sick, sour, bloated, gassy stomach, there's little in life for you. Relief—permanent relief—must come before you can ever ed with my stomach, kidneys and had rheumatism. I could hardly get around to do my work. I had such pains that I could sleep but little at night and in the morning could hardly get up. Goldine was recommended to me by a friend and I read of it in the papers, of people who lived in Clearfield who received help from Goldine, and I decided to try it. I am glad I decided to try Goldine for I soon found my appetite was beginning to improve, could sleep better, nervousness left me and don't worry about things now. Also my strength is coming back. I advise anyone suffering as I did to try Goldine. The first bottle will demonstrate the merit of the new tonic.

It will replace all the bad blood it drives out with pure blood, full of vital force. It will furnish you with the kind of blood that increases energy and ambition, that puts the entire body in such a physical condition that brains and muscles will not fatigue easily. A free dose if you wish it. We do not use one medicine for everything.

Try Goldine just once and find out what good health really means. Remember, I am at Stewart's Drug Store. A talk with me about Goldine doesn't cost anything and may save you years of suffering.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

SECOND PAYMENT ON LIBERTY BONDS

The date for the remaining payments are as follows: Twenty per cent on July 15, 1917; thirty per cent on August 15, 1917; and thirty per cent on August 15, 1917. This schedule of payments does not apply, of course, to those persons who have purchased their bonds on the weekly or monthly installment plan through their employers, or through banks, stores and other agencies who made the purchase direct from the Government.

Letters to the Editor

Clearfield, Pa., June 27, 1917
Editor of Progress.

I understand that on Tuesday May 22, 1917, there was organized in the Court House of Clearfield County a body of men calling themselves the Clearfield County Safety committee, authorized by Governor Brumbaugh, and to cooperate with the State Safety committee, in matters pertaining to the welfare of the whole commonwealth, as long as the war lasted.

Now what I think a shame and disgrace on our county is that yesterday was our regular meeting day, unless otherwise called by the chairman. There was one member of that Committee there at the court house yesterday and that was all I saw or knew of, it may be that the other members thought they could not spare the time it would take, but the way I look at this war is if we do not try and give some of our valuable time to help support our army in the field we cannot have any share in the victory. If such it be, but I do know we will all share alike if Liberty is lost, we are all supposed to do our part, he is now so small to help our country. For this is why the governor appointed an on such a committee to assist him in time of need. Now is the time. The people who think this war is a joke had better waken up and rub their eyes.

Respectfully yours,
J. A. BRETH,
Member of the above committee

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Wayne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson, of Locust street, and one of Clearfield's youngest army recruits, has been selected by his Troop Commander at Mercedes, Texas, as one of four boys of the troop to take the examination for admission to West Point. His parents were apprised of his good fortune in the following letter:

Mercedes, Texas,
June 24, 1917

Dear Father, Mother and Huddy:

Today I celebrate the end of my second month in Uncle Sam's army, and everything seemed to come my way with a rush. I succeeded in qualifying as "marksman" on the rifle range, which means two extra "bones" per month. I made up my mind before going to the range that if I should succeed in this that I would leave the ranks of the laundrymen and send my washing out, so out she goes. Don't you think this a good way to spend that extra two.

Well, Mother, that "marksman" is nothing to what my other piece of good luck was. The troop commander sent for me at 9:30 this morning and got me into the orderly room with three other fellows. The commander is a stern man and we were wondering what in the world he wanted. Finally he said: "Well, are you four men willing to go to school?" I thought he meant some school about barbering; how to handle a rifle or something like that, but when the other fellows said they were willing I said I was too, and then he said "Well, each troop sends four men a year to West Point and I am going to give you boys a chance to qualify; now get busy."

He asked for recommendations from home and I have written to Postmaster Barclay for mine. So please send my geometry and algebra as I have but about a month to prepare for the exam, and will have to hustle. I know I have a lot to study but I am going to try hard to land this. Also send me "The Breeze."

I have directed that $20 be sent you each month, that will leave me $10 after my washing is paid for and that is enough here. I sure do like the army and have one of the nicest horses in the troop. So far everything seems to go just as I wish it. We have received our khaki uniforms and now look like real soldiers.

Lovingly,
WAYNE

ON THE SCREEN

GIRL OF BRAINS IS DOROTHY DALTON

Dorothy Dalton is staged in the Triangle-Ince-Kay Bee drama to be starred at the Tent theatre Friday.

This is a tense story of big business. Having been assisted to a big position through the unswerving loyalty of Ellen Holton, a quiet but unusually efficient stenographer, Larry Thomas, an ambitious country youth, decides to throw Ellen over and marry the daughter of the president of the company, despite the fact that he knows Muriel Brooks to be a reckless, pleasure loving parasite. In company with one of her unscrupulous companions Muriel gets into her father's office at night to rob the vault.

A quarrel develops between the girl and her accomplice, and during the ensuing struggle Muriel is shot and killed.

Larry Thomas, who has been working late rushes in. But the real murderer has escaped, and when the police arrive they find Larry bending over Muriel's body.

Ellen Holton is the only other person in the office.

Larry is held for the crime, and Ellen is to be the chief witness against him.

Just before the trial Ellen persuades Larry to agree to their marriage in jail. Then the case is dropped, because a wife cannot be forced to testify against her husband.

In the end Larry tracks down the real culprit and makes amends to the brave girl who was willing to sacrifice everything for him.

Dainty Marguerite Clark in "MICE AND MEN"

Special at the Globe Tomorrow

Marguerite Clark, the fascinating little star of the Famous Players film company, who since her desertion of the stage has endowed the screen with a number of inimitable characterizations, most notable of which are her successful appearance in "Still Waters" and in the dual title roles of "The Prince and the Pauper," adds another screen achievement that surpasses all her previous triumphs in the role of Peggy, in the photo-production of the famous romantic comedy, "Mice and Men."

This role, in which such popular actresses as Annie Russell and Lady Gertrude Forbes-Robertson distinguished themselves in New York and London respectively, develops the impulses, whimsicalities and ideals of romantic youth and it may therefore be readily seen that Miss Clark is eminently suited to this captivating impersonation.
